Conservation.

What is Chakhuli?

A Community Initiative for Nature Conservation.

Chakhuli is dedicated to promoting nature conservation, nature education, environment cleanliness, and cultural awareness. The initiative aims to educate villagers starting children, about the invaluable gifts nature provides and the importance of preserving them. By starting with schoolchildren, Chakhuli seeks to inspire the younger generation to appreciate the beauty of birds, wildlife, and nature around them. The focus is also on teaching the significance of cleanliness in their surroundings, encouraging them to adopt sustainable practices in their daily lives. Through these efforts, Chakhuli hopes to cultivate a deep sense of responsibility toward nature and create a cleaner, more eco-conscious community.
